With 2020 in the rear-view mirror, the beginning of a new year brings many a sense of excitement, opportunity, and change. This can make many of us get the sudden urge to finally put a close to those nagging questions we had been putting off. Be it finding a long-lost relative, finding out if your business partner is being honest, sorting out an estate matter dispute, or maybe putting to bed the lingering doubts about your spouse's loyalty. So how do you go about getting these tricky answers?

Background checks, surveillance, and covert operations are just a few methods a P.I. may implement to get the answers they need. Of course, each case is different so customizing a strategy to fit your investigation is key and this is most effective when your P.I. has experience in a multitude of cases to truly know what fits.

Now a lot of people don't realize just how many ways a PI can be utilized, both in your personal life and business. Background checks can be performed on employees, investors, and tenants, just to name a few. Counterfeit goods can put companies out of business and although it may seem impossible to stop, the undercover agents of BCSI were instrumental in obtaining the evidence to support the largest Federal Court Luxury Counterfeit Goods judgment in the amount of $2.5 million. So, it can be done. Technology based crimes are on the rise with cyberbullying and online scams skyrocketing through the pandemic often leaving the victim both emotionally and financially scarred and without many options for justice. Many don't realize a P.I. can also work parallel to a police investigation for the best chance at a favourable outcome. Cases can be adapted for potential civil litigation and/or criminal charges. Our firm provides complete lawyer support and can provide evidence and testimonies to support your case in the form of sworn affidavits.

Now if you haven't heard of BCSI Investigations Inc. other than getting a newsletter in your inbox once in a while or on social media here and there, this is just a snapshot of what we do; basically, we help people get answers to questions they didn't think they could and in turn they gain some peace of mind in the end. Our firm has been in operation for 20 years, with a team of dedicated and experienced PI's who operate under the direction of an ex-RCMP officer. If you have a question and want to know if BCSI can help, call our office at 604-922-6572 or visit our website at <https://www.picanada.ca/contact-us/>. We offer free consultations with our senior P.I's when you call or email us.
